Mindfulness Activity #1: Mindfulness Minute
Opening up your class/meeting with a mindfulness minute can be a great way to ground students/members. This can include asking them to deep breathe for a minute, notice their 5 senses for a minute including prompting members to notice what they see, smell, feel around them, etc. This minute can be for students to do what they need to do in order to feel present in the moment.